PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Frank Cassidy

Welcome to the September issue of Interface.

We had our board meeting on August 27 and 28th in Orlando at the IOG facilities. Thank you Marilyn for the arrangements- not only were they perfect for the meeting, but they saved F.A.C.E. a lot of money in that the accommodations were half of the regular hotel price, and the meeting room was at no charge.

Your Board worked hard over that weekend to first revise and update the strategic plan. This will insure F.A.C.E. continues to move in a positive direction with purpose and vision. And second, to put the plan into action through the Board meeting and reports from the committees. I have included a copy of the strategic plan in this issue for you all to see what we are dedicated to providing to you, the membership. Take particular note of our dedication to professional training, working hard towards State certification and providing benefits to the membership. We are working on streamlining the single fee renewal process and building relationships with other agencies, associations and stakeholders to make sure the value of our work is recognized and appreciated.

One of my goals this year is to bring the Board meetings to the membership. Our next Board meeting will be December 3 and 4 and we will be coming to southeast Florida. If you are in that area, call me to help find a meeting place and accommodations. In addition, we would love to see a huge turnout of code enforcement personnel in the area for networking, team building and thought exchange.

Your committees have been hard at work. The program committee is starting to put their plan together for next year's training and education conference. They will be including the successful changes from the last conference while incorporating others to continue to provide a professional, valuable experience for everyone.

The Membership Committee continues to reach out to those areas that are working on establishing regional associations; exploring increased membership benefits and incentives; and reformatting the INTERFACE to provide better information and be used more effectively as a training tool.

The Education/Certification Committee will be working on revamping the Administrative Aspects of Code Enforcement (Level II) course this year. They will be exploring all options from section rewrites to a total rewrite including opportunities to have more code enforcement officials teaching more sections.

The Legislative Committee produced manuals for all Board members that include budgets, policies and procedures from past boards, the strategic plan, and historical information that will prove effective at maintaining consistency and effectiveness of the board. They are working on state certification by establishing relationships with legislators and lobbyists to take on the challenge. They are dedicated to getting this job done. They will continue to be on watch for legislation that has the potential of affecting code enforcement- from tax changes to TABOR, liens to fines, and everything in between.

And finally, a special report was presented by Shawn O'Rourke. His report outlined the single fee renewal process that received unanimous support from the Board and should be close to completion by the next Board meeting. He also updated us on the Florida League of Cities conference where F.A.C.E. had a booth. Shawn was quick to point out how many attendees came to our booth and said how valuable code enforcement is and how we need to continue to work together to enhance our cause.

All in all, we are excited about the possibilities and opportunities we have for this year, while we approach with caution and compassion given the economic situations and challenges we are all facing. We recognize we are only as strong as our membership and we continue to be dedicated to you all. In order to make this work, we need you, our members to get more involved.

If you have questions, let me know and I will do my best to provide the answers.

As always, I encourage and solicit any and all feedback on training and the F.A.C.E. courses- training is the back bone of F.A.C.E., so we all need to be involved. Please contact me with suggestions, questions, ideas, and feedback- thank you!

Keep training and be safe!

NEWS FROM THE BOARD

1ST VICE PRESIDENT

Mark Caskie

Are you as excited about next year's annual meeting and training seminar as I am? Well I'm so excited that in the last INTERFACE I gave you the wrong dates and we would be a week early. Please check your calendar and show up on the right dates, that is, June 21-24, 2011.

Now that you have the right dates you may notice that there has been a slight shift to the days. Next year we will start on Tuesday afternoon and end on Friday morning. This represents a planned shift to end the overtime issue that attendance on Saturday created. To some that have been around for many years this will be a complete circle and a return to how F.A.C.E. started. We do look at what people ask for in the critiques and respond when we can to make this event even better.

My committee will continue to look through your suggestions and make appropriate changes. We will be looking for ways to make use of efficiencies and reduce costs if possible. We will plan to get specifics out in early spring so you can finalize your plans to attend.

If anyone has suggestions for next year's programs please send me an e-mail, fvpresident@face-online.org . I need to know what you liked, disliked, or would like to see in the future. All suggestions will be reviewed.

At our Board of Directors meeting last month, I was encouraged by the special committee report, chaired by Past President Shawn O'Rourke, on the member dues and recertification single fee issue. I am confident the details will get worked out and we can resolve this and end the confusion that many members have complained about for years. It sounds easy, but is complex and it is important that we fix this right so we have a smooth transition and in the end it is workable for our partners at the IOG and clear to the membership. I think we are on track to have an efficient and understandable system.

For many, September represents final changes to County and Municipal budgets. This year has been hard for many and some of our coworkers unfortunately may be finding new careers. We hope most of you and your departments survive the budget axe. For those left, there will be the stress of finding time to work all the cases and perform all those inspection requests. "More with less" has a breaking point and once all your efficiencies have been implemented, some things just won't get done. Some citizens may not be happy that things are missed or may take longer. One key is not to take things personally. Also remain positive; it can be contagious. Seek out and practice good stress management principles. Leave work at work and recharge with family and friends.

Many tell me that people seem to be angrier lately. My personal opinion is that election campaigns can stir the pot and this cycle seems to be just that, Stirred up! So take a deep breath and get through November 2nd. Once the media stops telling everyone how bad our government leaders are I predict attitudes will return to normal for the majority. Let's hope I'm right.

Be safe and continue to do the good work that you do every day. Thanks for the opportunity to serve you, the membership.

TREASURER
James Acosta

The financial status of FACE to date is very good. Our accounts' totals as of 07-31-10 are: Operating Account (Checking) – $ 120,722.02; Scholarship account (Savings) - $3,780.49; Reserve Account (Savings) - $ 5,232.05

Evaluating the difference between Income and Spending

When you calculate the "difference" between total estimated monthly income and total estimated monthly spending, you will come up with either a positive or negative number.

- A positive number means that you have more income than you spend each month. Good Work. You might consider paying off your debts more quickly and/or putting aside more money toward your financial goals.
- A negative number means that you spend more than you make. You are going into debt. This number is the amount of money you need to cut from your spending each month. If it is a serious difference, you might consider ways to increase your income until you can get your spending under control.

If your spending is greater than your income, or if you would like to increase the difference between your income and spending, there are two options—reduce your spending or increase your income. Think of ways to do both and write them down. Put them where you can see them every day, like on the refrigerator or mirror in your bathroom.

To decrease the amount you are spending, consider your different types of expenses. Expenses can be put into three basic categories:

1. Fixed expenses are monthly costs that do not change much (unless you specifically change circumstances, such as move to a less expensive apartment):
 - rent/mortgage payments
 - car payments
 - loans
2. Flexible expenses are monthly costs that you control:
 - groceries
 - long-distant telephone bill/cell phone bill
 - utilities
 - gas
 - car maintenance
 - credit card payments
 - savings
3. Luxury expenses are monthly costs that you choose:
 - new clothes
 - going out to eat

- entertainment
- gifts

If you need to decrease your monthly spending, you will first want to look at lowering your flexible and luxury expenses.

It may help to ask yourself the following questions:

- What are your biggest expenses? How might you decrease them?
- What do you purchase in the “luxury” expenses category? Are these purchases less important than your short-term savings goals? If so, then you may want to consider not spending the money.

If you are not satisfied with the difference between your expenses and income, and you cannot figure out how to create savings, consider calling a local credit counseling organization. A credit counselor can help you with your personal situation and identify steps you can take to move toward your goals.

The difference between your income and spending is money you can save. Develop three categories of savings goals. Set money aside in three kinds of funds to help you meet different savings goals:

1. Emergency reserve goal. Put money aside for an emergency. Try to put aside two months’ living expenses. Avoid using this money.
2. Short-term goals. Put money into an account and withdraw money as you are able to afford your goals. You should be able to reach your short-term goals after a few weeks or months of consistent savings.
3. Long-term goals. Money you invest or set aside for a larger purchase. It may take a few years of consistent saving to reach your long-term goals.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Debbi Leigh

There is not a lot to update on legislative issues when the Legislation is not in session; however, I did want to let you know the Legislation and Judicial Committee had a very productive first meeting. The following members have volunteered their time for this committee: Jim Orioles, City of Oviedo, Danny Thompson, City of Lakeland, Tom Gravagna, Charlotte County, Sandra Caslow, Lake City, Mike Donovan, City of Palm Coast, and Sam Sullivan, City of Gainesville. Thank you to all of them!

The committee reviewed the current By-Laws for grammatical correction, and the necessary changes will be made. A policy for suspension and/or revocation of membership based on certain criteria was created and the Board of Directors adopted the recommendations from the committee. These new guidelines will be posted on the website under the Members Only section shortly.

The issue of state recognition was discussed at length and it was highly recommended to the Board that a lobbyist be hired to assist F.A.C.E. with this endeavor. The Board agreed and directed the committee to bring some proposals back for consideration.

The committee will be working on these and several other issues, and will report on the progress in the next INTERFACE. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me at sgtatarms@face-online.org.

PAST PRESIDENT

Terry Suggs

While sitting in church this past Sunday and listening - not singing (everyone knows from the talent show a few years back that I cannot sing) to the hymn "This is My Story - This is My Song," a revelation came over me. This is exactly what we need to be practicing in both our personal lives and our professional lives, especially during these drastic budget cuts and economically depressed times. I know this is not any earth shattering revelation, but the words inspired me to consider how we need to be singing our own praises - the praises of what it means to have professional and educated code enforcement officers serving the leadership of our respected cities and counties. We need to emphasize the positive impacts that code compliance has on our neighborhoods, the positive effects that code compliance has on property values, and the quality of life that is provided to our citizens through professional and judicious code compliance. F.A.C.E provides the essential training, education and technical advancements in code compliance techniques that are more essential now than ever before given the increasing foreclosure rate, abandoned properties and environmental concerns.

Our association understands the difficulty that many are having in regards to attaining the necessary CEH's to maintain your hard earned certifications. In response to your needs, the F.A.C.E. Board of Directors and the Institutes of Government agreed in principle to a revenue sharing agreement that will provide an increase to our annual educational/training budget line. This revenue source will in essence assist more of our membership that is struggling to attain the required 16 hours of continuing education due to fiscal constraints we each have to work through in order to stay certified.

In August, Past President Shawn O'Rourke and I attended the Florida League of Cities (FLC) conference on behalf of our association. What we got in return was a statewide collective thank you from many of our elected council members, mayors and city managers for our continued support and willingness to be in the forefront and assist on many issues that each has faced in the respective jurisdictions. One particular council member from Lake Worth skipped his lunch break to sit and discuss one on one how elected city officials might assist F.A.C.E. in attaining state recognition for our certification program.

The FLC has requested our help in educating our members and our legislators of the negative consequences that possible legislation, taxpayer's bill of rights (TABOR) will have on our communities and our state as a whole. Our Sergeant-at-Arms, Debbi Leigh, is working with the League of cities on this joint effort.

Folks, "This is Our Story - This is Our Song." It is time that we step up to microphone and belt out the chorus to ensure that those who may not fully grasp the significance of what we provide to our communities and to our citizens can hear us. Our association is strong. Our association is professional. Our association is dedicated to its membership. These qualities will continue to allow F.A.C.E. to prosper through these complex times.

FLORIDA ASSOCIATION OF CODE ENFORCEMENT STRATEGIC PLAN 2010 -2011
